

Are You Interested in Intellectual Enrichment?

Attend programs or be part of the team that plans lectures for a growing number of older adults who appreciate the value of learning.

Join us as we form a special program for mature adults at Penn State Lehigh Valley! The program will offer five monthly lectures on the first Friday of each month, beginning in February 2008, at the Penn State Lehigh Valley Corporate Learning Center, 100 Brodhead Road, Suite 120, in Bethlehem. Attend these lectures and help plan future ones.

Mark your calendar for these upcoming lectures:

February 1 — Seen and Heard: The Women of Television News

presenter: Dr. Nichola Gutgold, Associate Professor of Communication Arts & Sciences,
Penn State Lehigh Valley

March 7 — Cultural Globalization

presenter: Dr. Margaret Christian, Associate Professor of English, Penn State Lehigh Valley

April 4 — Gautama Buddab & Jesus Christ

presenter: Dr. William H. Jennings, Professor Emeritus of Religion, Muhlenberg College

Doors open at 10 a.m. Lectures begin at 11 a.m. Morning coffee and lunch are included.

The lectures are open to participants age 55 and older.

Cost for the five-lecture series is $50/person.

For more information, contact Diane Lewis at 610-285-5066 or dlewis@psu.edu.

Penn State Lehigh Valley
8380 Mohr Lane, P.O. Box 549
Fogelsville, PA 18051-0549